PROFILE

I am a 17-year-old software developer with a strong web development foundation, based in Luxembourg at the European School of Luxembourg II. I have completed over 10 projects and am proficient in Python and JavaScript, with experience in React, Node.js, and Django. A fast learner, I adapt quickly to new technologies and always improve. I'm passionate about building user-friendly applications and thrive in team settings, developing strong collaboration skills through team projects at school.
